"BLESSED ARE THE EYES THAT SEE WHAT YOU SEE!"

Bill McFarland

It happened at one of the high points in the Lord's ministry. Those to whom he had given authority over all the power of the enemy had returned with joyful reports of the success of what they had been doing in his name (Lk. 10:17). This had caused Jesus to rejoice in the Holy Spirit, and to thank to Father who is Lord of heaven and earth for what was occurring (v. 21). But notice this next detail: "Then turning to the disciples he said privately, 'Blessed are the eyes that see what you see! For I tell you that many prophets and kings desired to see what you see, and did not see it, and to hear what you hear, and did not hear it'" (v. 23-24).

Why did the Lord feel the need to make this point to his friends at such a moment? One possibility is that he knew they might not have recognized the significance of what was happening. The report of the seventy had caused Jesus to say, "I saw Satan fall like the lightning from heaven" (v. 17). The inroads which had been made into the enemy's territory were hints of what would be completed when he, through his death and resurrection, would invade the strong man's house and took away his power (Lk. 11:21-22).

Another possibility is that Jesus understood the human tendency to take for granted that with which we have grown familiar, and that he was not willing for his friends to fall victim to that habit by overlooking the tremendous value of the blessing they were experiencing. This is an important line of thought in the New Testament, and it is a lesson we still need, perhaps even more urgently than they did.

Those who stood there with Jesus were being privileged to see the fulfillment of promises many great people of faith had greeted from afar, but had died without receiving (Heb. 11:13). The courageous prophets who even spoke of the grace they were seeing had searched and inquired diligently of its time and the subsequent glories (1 Pet. 10-11). Things into which angels long to look were being revealed (1 Pet. 1:12). Truly, eyes that are granted the opportunity to see such things are blessed!

Think of what that means to us. We enjoy the privilege of looking into the mystery of the eternal God which was kept secret for long ages, but is now disclosed wherever the gospel is taught (Rom. 16:25-27). No response fits such a blessing except the joyful and grateful obedience of faith, celebrated forevermore.

May we not take our blessings for granted.

WHAT IS LTC?

Informational Meeting today after morning service in the auditorium

The initials LTC stand for Leadership Training for Christ. The purpose of this program is to stimulate and encourage spiritual, mental, and social growth among young people in grades 3-12. Its aim is to develop skills in leadership, Bible knowledge and Christian servanthood. The youth are the future of the Lord's church. If we as adults don't take the time to train our youth in leadership and servanthood, what will happen to the growth of the church? Since our beginning 4 years ago, I believe that LTC has opened the eyes and hearts of our young people to the understanding of Christian servanthood; we have gone from 20 to 41 participants. We must continue to pray for them and encourage them to be involved in the work at Water Mill. May God continue to bless us in our efforts to train young men and women in service to the Lord.

Promotion Day is
September 6!

I have heard so many of you say how great it is to be a part of such a loving, caring family and I thought, "How true." But now I know first hand the abundant love and care each of you has shown to me and my family. Thank you for all the prayers, words of concern, cards, calls, food and your presence with us as we said goodbye to my sister, Mary Hansen.

Love you all, Linda Currier and family

Dear Water Mill Church Members,

Our family appreciates your kindnesses shown during this difficult time at the passing of our loved one. The kind words, flowers, cards, calls and hugs, all expressions of caring, brought tears to our eyes and an inward joy to our hearts of all those shared relationships. Also, thanks for the meal that was provided. It was enjoyed so much by our family during this time of our sorrow.

Sincerely, The Davis Family

Spotlight Family: Matt, Julie & Haylee Kelley

The Kelley family came to us from the Union Hill congregation after building a new home in this area. They previously worked with us while attending college. Matt is employed by Old Missouri Bank and Julie is currently teaching school at Cassville. We are so happy to have this lovely family at Water Mill.

THOUGHTS FROM DENNIS ...

Golden Age Jamboree is OCTOBER 10!

NO SECRETS WITH GOD

It is a frightening thing to understand that God knows all our good points and that he knows all our bad thoughts as well. David called them "our secret sins" (Psa. 19:12; 90:8). In the day of judgment all those secret sins will be revealed (1st Tim. 5:24) unless God has forgiven us of them already. As bad as these things may seem, perhaps there is a certain resolve which can come from them. If this seems somewhat strange, just remember the forgiving spirit of our God extended on out into infinity. He conveyed this truth to us through his Son when he was asked how often should we forgive our brother. The reply was, "I say not unto thee, Until seven times: but, Until seventy times seven" (Matt. 18:22). When we look at some of God's greatest men and see the sins which were committed by them and couple their sinful deeds with the forgiving spirit of Christ, it gives hope to those of us who may have our own "secret sins." The Apostle Paul confessed that he was the "chief of sinners" (1st Tim. 1:15). These words were written late in the life of this man of God. However, not too long after this he wrote: "I am now ready to be offered" (2nd Tim. 4:6), meaning that he found forgiveness of all his sins. While we need to strive to live above sin, there is still the confidence that God, through his Son, will always forgive if we only ask him to do so.
