Closing Prayer

You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden. (Matt. 5:14)

"The Love of Christ"

Though we talk much about it, the phrase "the love of Christ" is used just three times in the Scriptures. Each time the phrase is used we learn something precious about the love of Christ. The "love of Christ" is:

1. The most wonderful knowledge. Paul's prayer for the Ephesians was that the Father would grant them "to know the love of Christ that surpasses knowledge, that you may be filled with all the fullness of God" (Eph. 3:19). We will never comprehend everything there is to know about the love of Christ. It is broad enough to include every man of every kind of every age. It will go to such lengths that it led Jesus to the death of the cross. In depth it reaches to the vilest sinner. In height it reaches to heaven where he ever lives to make intercession for us. You will never know anything more precious than the love of Christ.

2. The most compelling motive. "For the love of Christ controls us, because we have concluded this: that one has died for all, therefore all have died" (2 Cor. 5:14). The love of Christ should rule us through one simple conviction: If he died for us we should live for him! Knowing his love, we cannot live for ourselves but for him who died for us and rose up again. Jesus himself said, "If you love me, you will keep my commandments" (John 14:15). The love of Christ compels us to give our lives to him.

3. The most comforting assurance. "Who shall separate us from the love of Christ! Shall tribulation, or distress, or persecution, or famine, or nakedness, or danger or sword? ... No, in all these things we are more than conquerors through him who loved us" (Rom. 8:35, 37). What a source of strength it is to know that nothing can separate us from the love of Christ! If God loved us enough to give his Son, he loves us enough to give whatever else we need. If Christ loved us enough to give himself, he loves us enough to help conquer. We are secure in the love of Christ!

May God help us to learn of, submit to, and rest in the love of Christ!

- Bill McFarland

My wonderful church family, Thank you so much for all the prayers, food, phone calls, cards, notes and visits. They all meant so much to me. I am so thankful for my Water Mill church family. I love you all. God Bless You!

Ella Mae Findlay

Thank you so much for all the food sent in the loss of our mother and allowing the family to use your building after the service. It was so appreciated, and your love and prayers were felt by our entire family. Our sorrow is great but God's love is greater! Church families like yours helped us see that. Thanks again.

Earnie, Kelly, Kent, Kristy & Family
(the family of Linda Meador)

Thank you so much for your concern following my recent surgery. Thank you for the cards, calls and prayers. They meant a lot to me.

BIGGER AND BETTER CHALLENGES?

By Dennis R. Smith

I suppose it is in the annals of the whole world that our ultimate goal is one of improvement. We seek to produce a better product. We strive to develop a new set of records. We work hard on our game to become more successful in whatever it is we seek to accomplish. Again, I suppose one is entitled to some sort of "recognition" in being able to reach a higher level in any given field. However, let us stop for a moment and ask a most important question: Which is better, to reach the highest level of improvement in business, sports, politics, etc., but fail to improve ourselves in the areas of our relationship to God, the church, home and family. Allegorically (and just for sake of better understanding my point) consider these cases: Breeders of race horses, show dogs and livestock, etc., are always attempting to create something better. What about their owners? Do they ever think of trying to improve self? Of course there are all kinds of self-improvement books and courses which are available for a fee. Even here I am not condemning anyone in trying to improve self through these means. On the other hand, God offers us completely free of charge instructions for improvement in the things which really count. Enroll yourself in a daily study of His Word. It will make you a better man or woman. Why not give it a try and start today?
