Closing Prayer

Tim Timmons

You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden. (Matt. 5:14)

I'M GLAD THEY SIGNED

The 56 men who signed our Declaration of Independence that first 4th of July - you know they were risking everything, don't you? Because if they won the war with the British, there would be years of hardship as a struggling nation. If they lost they would face a hangman's noose. And yet there where it says, "We herewith pledge our lives, our fortunes, and our sacred honor," they did sign.

But did you know that they paid the price? When Carter Braxton of Virginia signed the Declaration of Independence, he was a wealthy planter and trader. But thereafter he saw his ships swept from the seas and to pay his debts, he lost his home and all of his property. He died in rags. Thomas McKean of Delaware was so harassed by the enemy that he was forced to move his family five times in five months. He served in Congress without pay, his family in poverty and in hiding. Thomas Nelson, Jr. of Virginia raised two million dollars on his own signature to provision our allies, the French fleet. After the War he personally paid back the loans wiping out his entire estate; he was never reimbursed by his government—he died bankrupt. John Hart was driven from his wife's bedside while she was dying; their thirteen children fled in all directions for their lives. His fields and gristmill were laid waste. For more than a year he lived in forests and caves and returned home after the War to find his wife dead, his children gone, his properties gone. He died a few weeks later of exhaustion and a broken heart. We remember John Hancock for that great sweeping signature on the Declaration. One of the wealthiest men in New England, he stood outside Boston one terrible night of the War and said, "Burn Boston, though it makes John Hancock a beggar, if the public good requires it." He, too, lived up to the pledge.

Of the 56 signers of the Declaration, few were long to survive. Five were captured by the British and tortured before they died. Twelve had their homes - from Rhode Island to Charleston - sacked and looted, occupied by the enemy or burned. Two of them lost their sons in the Army; one had two sons captured. Nine of the 56 died in the War. They were men of means, most of them, prosperous land-owners secure in their prosperity. But they believed that liberty is so much more important than security, that they pledged their lives, their fortunes, and their sacred honor. And they fulfilled their pledge — they paid the price, and freedom was born. I'm glad they signed!

If you read Philippians 2:5-11, you will see that Jesus also gave up everything for freedom — your freedom and my freedom. I'm glad he did!

- Steve Tandy (Wichita, KS)

SUPER SATURDAY VBS coming August 6*

Please check out the Blessing Tree in the east side of the foyer for needed VBS/camp supplies. If you prefer to donate $1 or $2 instead of purchasing an item, see Leah Prewitt or Johnnie. (If there are no apples on the tree, check back later to see what is needed.)

*Thank you so much for those of you who sent your children to our camp session last week. Also I want to thank those who helped make our session one of the best; Jo Baggett, Tim & Marty Stockstill, George & Gaitha Downing, Alex Penner, and Charles Crum. Thanks also to Bill McFarland for our "Let Us" camp theme from his lesson on Hebrews 10. One of our young ladies was baptized last Friday evening to make it a perfect week. Thanks to God for His perfect weather too; best in last 13 years. Larry Baggett

*I cannot adequately express my gratitude for the many hugs, handshakes and words of encouragement following my baptism. It is truly a blessing to be part of such a caring and positive church family. I am looking forward to many years of service, worship, and Christian brotherhood with all of you. Again, thank you and God bless. Tucker Jobs

Let's Do Some Serious Thinking

By Dennis R. Smith

Over the years an anonymous writer has left the following immortal quote and it has been picked up by almost every Speakers Source Book in the land. It goes like this: "I expect to pass through this world but once. Any good therefore that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now, let me not defer or neglect it; for I shall not pass this way again." Dear Reader, please do not think that this quote reflects only on the end of life though it certainly fits that sad occasion. I especially invite you to consider these words: "Let me do it now." I believe the overall thought of this quote reflects on the type of reputation that we are making at any given time in our life. It also shows the need to be kind to others. If in the past we have failed to render any good to others, it also invites us to change now and begin doing what we should have done all along. While this quote is not from the Bible, this Grand Old Book backs it up with such statements as, "And be ye kind one to another, tenderhearted, forgiving one another, even as God for Christ's sake hath forgiven you" (Eph. 4:32). In a world of anger and malice those of us who wear the name of Christian would do well to practice what this article suggests and then do our best to help someone along the remainder of our journey here. There's an old song in which the opening words tell us, "Each day I'll do a golden deed by helping those who are in need." Amen?
